Discovery of Sculptor's Book Adds to Greenbelt Collection

by Virginia Beauchamp

Serendipity — a fortuitous, unexpected discovery. Such a happening brought to the Greenbelt Library, a volume that was luckily recognized as significant to the city's history, when it was found recently among a pile of books donated to be sold as a fund-raiser for the library. The book will now reside in the Tugwell Room, where special collections relating to Greenbelt are housed.

The book is The Tender Stone — written, designed, and privately printed by Lenore Thomas Straus in 1964. If the name sounds vaguely familiar, Lenore Thomas was the sculptor who created both the mother and child statue in the Roosevelt Center and the friezes across the front of the Center School. Both works have come to symbolize the essence of the best in the art deco style which characterizes the original buildings in this city.

The Tender Stone, however, is not directly related to Greenbelt. It is an autobiographical account by Thomas, not of her life as a sculptor, but of her search for her family's roots in the Lofoten Islands off the coast of Norway. Yet as she sees it, what she found in Norway explains the life choices she had made.

The book's only reference to Greenbelt (and not by name) occurs in an introduction, written by her husband, Robert Ware Straus. Describing her very early interest in uniting sculpture and architecture, Straus traces Thomas's developing career, which with the creation of the New Deal and a "quickened government interest in the arts," brought her to Washington. At once she won commissions to place sculpture on public buildings.

"The largest of these commissions," her husband wrote, "was for a huge limestone, Mother and Child. In the process of reducing the seventeen ton stone to a final twelve tons, she made the wry discovery that the United States government was willing to pay more per day for a rented air compressor than for the sculptor who used the air hammer to cut the stone."

When World War II ended, Thomas married and settled in Accokeek. In 1958 she was invited to Japan to design and supervise a major International Social Work exhibit. Though neither Straus nor Thomas mentions the fact in her book, it must have been from her experience in Japan that she came to adopt a special signature block, which she had printed in red, usually in the lower right corner beside each of her drawings or the photographs of her sculpture that illustrate this book. The block contains her own ideograph—two hands, held palm forward, thumbs outward, rising out of a pool of water. Above the hand on the left is a chisel; above the one on the right, a hammer. Besides this red block, the only other color in an otherwise black and white book is the page numbers, also in red.

The Journey to Norway

In finding the rugged, rocky cliffs of her father's childhood home, Thomas came to understand "why my spirit has compelled me to a heart-breaking struggle to carve in stone a solid, beautiful echo of what my bones remembered and my eyes had never seen."

"Now I know the one-pointed ruthlessness of my ancestors to survive in that world, and my own stubborn, one-pointed ruthlessness to stride over the compromises of my life." She traces both her interest in working in stone and her life-long interest in sailing — the water of the signature block — to these components of her ancestral heritage.

The book narrates her own serendipitous experience, when seaboard tea table companions, who were natives of the region, were able to put Thomas in touch with relatives — an aunt, an uncle, and a cousin — of whose existence she had not previously known, and to make the arrangements that led to her visit to her father's childhood home and the graveyard where her grandmother was buried. Through these contacts she was able to reconstruct her father's youth and the hard life of her grandmother, filled with the loss through death of most of her children, and the loss through emigration to America of the three grown sons.

There is almost no color in this book. Aside from a reference to the bluegreen bottom of the sea, where she sees herring, and a green field where she saw boys playing football, Thomas's descriptions evoke a Norway that seems to exist only in black rock and deep shadows. On the day celebrating Norway's independence, which Thomas shared with relatives, she notes the blue traditional costume of one of the women. Thus I was struck by the sudden appearance of a yellow boat, in a description near the end of the book, that she notes cutting across into a dangerous conflict of currents known as a maelstrom. One comes to understand why Thomas found her natural medium in rock — not in watercolor or oils.

The book was published in 1964 by a press called Galaxy, Inc. of Washington, D.C.

Police Chief Hutson Resigns for New Post

Police Chief Francis T. Hutson has resigned his position in Greenbelt in order to accept an appointment as Chief of Police in Cocoa Beach, Florida. Hutson's resignation was announced by City Manager James K. Giese at the regular City Council meeting on September 15. The council received the news with obvious regret.

In his letter of resignation, Hutson said he would not be accepting the Cocoa Beach position if it were not for the fact that the position is in Florida, a place where he and his wife have wanted to relocate. He said that he has enjoyed working for Greenbelt and that he has "... benefited from my association with the city, its personnel and the community."

Hutson, a 24-year veteran of the Baltimore County Police Department before coming to Greenbelt in March 1984, became chief of the city's police department at the end of June of that year when William T. Lane, longtime Greenbelt police chief, retired.

In his announcement of the resignation to the council, Giese praised Hutson's achievements since he came to Greenbelt. Giese said Hutson "... has done an outstanding job of directing the department and restructuring it to meet the increased demands of a growing city."

Hutson's resignation is effective October 12.

Arts Center Wins Grant

The Prince Georges Arts Council has awarded the Greenbelt Arts Center a $2,000 grant for the 1986-87 season. The grant will be used to expand and diversify programs at the Arts Center.

A reception announcing and distributing this year's grants was held September 18 at the New Carrollton Sheraton. Arts Center President Nicholas Mydra and Grants Chairperson Lindley Darden accepted the award.

Grant funds for the Prince Georges Arts Council program are provided by ACF Industries, Digital Equipment Corporation, John Hanson Savings and Loan, Litton Systems/Amecom Division, Carrollton Enterprises, Ltd., Metrovision of Prince Georges County, Maryland-National Capital Park and Planning Commission, Maryland State Arts Council, and Prime Cable of Maryland.

TREASURER TELLS HOMEOWNERS TO BE SURE TAXES ARE PAID

by Mary Lou Williamson

September 30 is the deadline for paying city property taxes. Payments made after that date will incur interest and penalty charges and taxes not paid at all will result in the property's being listed for tax sale.

Greenbelt's tax bills were mailed in early August and the deadline is fast approaching. While each year's deadline brings with it a few delinquencies and a bit of confusion about who is responsible for the payments, this year the problems are much greater, according to the city's tax collector, City Treasurer Cas Prybyl. The chaotic conditions in the mortgage industry this year, caused by the tremendous volume of homeowners seeking to refinance their mortgages at much lower rates of interest and the buying and selling of mortgages, he says, is presenting an unexpected problem for local homeowners. The long delays in processing mortgage applications, in some cases according to Prybyl, has resulted in the tax information not being forwarded to the new owner of the mortgage. Adding to the city's problem is that it must deal with more than 150 separate financial institutions from New York to California and a handful of real estate tax service institutions that process tax payments for another 150 different financial institutions.

The tax rolls were set in April (the assessments being made by the State and the information fed into the county's computers) and in August the city mailed out 3,296 separate tax bills. Already, Prybyl says, many city tax bills have been returned unpaid by mortgage companies.

"We are finding that when homeowners refinance their mortgage, the company has in some cases turned around and sold the mortgage to a second company almost as soon as the transaction with the homeowner has been completed. Some of those mortgages have been sold again." The homeowner, says Prybyl, can be the last to know about the changes. He sends off his monthly payment on time to company A and weeks or months later gets a dunning letter from company B or C about non-payment of the mortgage. And no one pays the taxes.

"Homeowners should make a point of contacting the mortgage company (or bank or credit union or savings and loan) to whom they are making payments to see that the taxes have been paid," Prybyl strongly advises.

Taxes that are paid after September 30 will incur both penalty and interest, reminds Prybyl. "We have no choice but to go after the property owner." It would then be the property owner's responsibility, he explains, to try to recoup those charges from the mortgage company.

In the more serious case in which no taxes are paid, the property "will be certified for tax sale if the city believes the owner has had an opportunity to pay the taxes but hasn't done so," Prybyl told the News Review Monday. If we believe the problem is not the fault of the homeowner, he offers, then the city is likely to be sympathetic and hold up the certification process to give the homeowner a chance to clear up the problem.

GHI Is Exception

Greenbelt Homes members are not affected. The tax bills for the 1600-member cooperative are sent to and paid directly by the cooperative. Mortgage companies are not involved. "There is no problem with GHI," Prybyl states, "but everyone else should check."

Copa Denied Liquor License Again

by Mavis Fletcher

On August 6 the Board of License Commissioners denied a request to transfer a liquor license from the Lamp Post Inn in Forestville to the COPA, a proposed restaurant with audio-visual entertainment in the Beltway Plaza Mall. According to information presented to the Greenbelt City Council at its regular meeting on September 15, the Greenbelt Video Corporation, developers of the proposed COPA, has appealed the Board's decision to the Circuit Court. Council directed the city solicitor, Robert Manzi, to appear before the court to argue in support of the board's decision.

In a letter to Regis Johnston, attorney for the developers, the liquor board indicated that it had based its denial of the transfer in part on evidence presented by the City of Greenbelt that "... the proposed facility would significantly increase severe parking problems in the area and that it would engender activities and customers in such numbers that the law enforcement capabilities of the community would be unduly strained."

The board also enumerated 16 establishments with liquor licenses within a one-mile radius of the proposed facility and concluded that "... the transfer of this license is not necessary for the accommodation of the public. . . ."

The developer has sought a liquor license for the establishment in a series of applications and the City has consistently opposed such a license. On April 2 the board refused to award a new license to the COPA. On April 27, the developers first applied for a transfer of the existing license. On May 14 the request for the transfer of the license was denied by the board. In denying the license, the board cited a provision in Maryland law that reapplication for a license cannot be made for six months after a previous denial.

The COPA is planned for the site where the Showcase Beltway theaters are located, (near the A & P grocery store). According to plans outlined at a City Council work session in February, the space currently occupied by one theater will be used for the dance floor — approximately 20 by 40 feet with a bar on each side wall. The end wall will have a 20 by 40 foot screen. The other theater will be used for a large bar with the projection area and the restaurant.

Golden Age Club

by Janet James

The Golden Age Club of Greenbelt wants to thank Gertrude Law for arranging for the exercise and swimmerise classes at the Greenbelt pool on Monday mornings this past summer. Also the Club would like to thank Rose Haber for conducting the classes.

The weatherman pulled a doozie on us when he gave us the coldest August morning on record on our last swim day. Only two members (probably the only ones with polar-bear blood in their veins) actually went into the water. However, we had an extra-long period of exercise on the deck under Rose Haber's able direction — then we adjourned to our annual closing picnic lunch.

Everyone had brought finger foods of some sort, and there was a great variety, including four kinds of sandwiches, deviled eggs, melons, dips with both crackers and vegetable sticks, luscious gooey brownies, lemonade and iced tea, a very fitting end to a delightful summer activity.

Gertrude Law will continue with swimming at the Ardmore indoor pool on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays through the winter. Call her on 345-1128 for further information.

Open Letter

To GHI Members:

We, the present members of the GHI Audit Committee, are very concerned over the membership's apparent perception of the Audit Committee. We have heard that the Committee is both a "do nothing" committee and a "rubber stamp" for the Board of Directors. While we cannot speak for past members of this Committee, we certainly can speak for ourselves, and we say "rub-bish!"

As far as we are concerned, the membership chose us to serve in an oversight role, and we intend to diligently redeem that responsibility. In addition to the things spelled out in the By-laws, we will gladly look into any matter brought to us by individual members. Please do not expect that you will always like the answer you get—the only thing we guarantee is that you will get an answer if you provide your name and address. For instance, in the case of a recent member complaint on three issues, we could find no problem other than a minor oversight which we have asked the Board to correct. However, should we find a real problem, you may rest assured that we will take the involved parties to task.

As you will see from the ad in the News Review, we have a vacancy on the committee. Beverly Colvin is moving from the area and has had to resign. We are actively seeking a replacement who will share our view that this will be a "do something" Committee.

Also, in response to a member complaint at the last board meeting, we agreed to review the workings of the maintenance department with particular emphasis on the efficiency and adequacy of the work performed. Like the Marines, we may well need a few good women (and men) to form an ad hoc committee to assist us in this task. Please watch the News Review as we'll advertise if need be.

We have also decided to make two departures from the past, which we hope will help to alleviate members' concerns about the Audit Committee:

1. Beginning in October, we will hold open meetings in the GHI Board Room on the 3rd Thursday of the month. Members are not only invited, but encouraged to attend. We will accept member input, and to the extent it is not confidential, discuss what we're doing. How long we will continue this will depend entirely upon member participation.

2. We will attempt to publicize our work, perhaps in the News Review. Your input on how we might best accomplish this would be appreciated.

Please—help us help you! Volunteer, recommend others, and most certainly, if you think you see a problem, let us know and we'll look into it.

Letters to the Editor

THANKS

Greenbelt is such a caring, thoughtful community and I am honored to be selected as its Outstanding Citizen. The surprise appearance by my parents from Minneapolis and by the fellow volunteers from the Maryland S&L Depositors' Committee, the surprise party given by my wonderful wife Deanne, the flow of congratulations from family and friends, the dinner invitations, and the newspaper stories—all have been delightful and a bit overwhelming! Thank you all very, very much. And thank you, Greenbelters, for making our town such a wonderful place to live.

David Lange

P.S. By the way, as I told Mayor Weidenfeld, it is much more fun to hear those long proclamations on the stage than in the audience!

(Editor's Note: Below is a copy of a letter which Lange received from President Reagan.)

Dear Mr. Lange:

I was pleased to learn that you were named Citizen of the Year of Greenbelt. You can take great pride in your achievements. Stories like yours are encouraging and inspiring, for it is hard-working, dedicated individuals like you who make this nation great.

Nancy joins me in sending our warm best wishes for every future success.

Ronald Reagan

THANKS

We wish to thank our friends in Greenbelt for their expressions of sympathy on the passing of my mother Katherine Bellino. They are deeply appreciated and gratefully acknowledged.

Lease Signed

After reading the inquiries in this paper concerning the old barber shop location, I did some investigating on my own. Although a home improvement company had intended to use the space, no lease had been executed. On September 12, I signed the sublease agreement with Highs and plan to open in October. The Roosevelt Center has great potential and I'm willing to do my share in revitalizing "Old Greenbelt." See you at the center!

You forgot to mention these top winners in the article you wrote on the Greenbelt Labor Day Show.

My dog, Pom Pom, won the following: first place—best costume; second place, most active; second place, fluffiest; second place, prettiest; second place, most talented, and third place, youngest.

And my friend Stacey Kopstein's cat, Maxie, won:

First place, longest tail and second place, fluffiest.

Please mention this in your next Greenbelt News Review. Maxie and Pom Pom would really like it.

Bigger and Better for 50th

I see by the September 11 News Review that Ms. Keene's "elderly Shriners" won first place "Best Comic Award." I, too, witnessed their foolish and frightening driving exhibition while the parade was stalled near the Community Church. It certainly was not funny; they deserve at least a reprimand—not a prize.

On the parade in general: It was o.k. to be small and "folksy" this year, but I hope bigger and better things are planned for the 50th anniversary parade—more bands, more floats, and (please) some horses!

THANKS

My sincere thanks to the voters of Greenbelt who turned out for the Democratic Primary Elections and gave me a victory in the first round of my effort to win re-election as State Senator from the 23rd District.

For incumbents, an election is a referendum on how well constituents believe public officials have done their jobs. For this incumbent, it is both a pleasure and a privilege to know that the vast majority of those who voted want me to return to Annapolis as their State Senator.

It is an honor I fought hard to win. I view it also as a contract with the citizens of this district—a contract that demands my continuing commitment and hard work on their behalf. It is a contract I intend to fulfill to the very best of my abilities, provided, of course, that I am successful once again in the November General Election.

Thanks, Greenbelt!

CITY NOTES

The parks crew planted a red maple tree between Sovran Bank and the Municipal Building. The tree was purchased by fellow employees of Barbara Havekost to be planted in memory of her mother, Lucille Loraditch.

The general and special details crews removed curb, gutter, and sidewalk around the Municipal Building and along Crescent Road, for installation of handicap ramps and curb replacement. This work is being done in preparation of the paving project. The special details crew also installed bases for new flashing lights at the crosswalk on Crescent Road near Northway Road.

The parks crew worked on ball-field and golf course maintenance this week. Members of the crew helped the horticulturist prepare for fall planting.

The special detail crew worked on painting of street crossings a portion of the week. The combined crews also worked on removal of three tree stumps and refuse pick up which has been extremely heavy. The parks crew has been working on athletic field maintenance and general ground beautification. The Horticulturist and members of the parks crew have been working on the development of the Lakewood Park area.

The City contractor placed asphalt resurfacing on the lower end of Hedgewood. Lakeview Circle, Braden Field path.

All the materials for the flashing light at the pedestrian crossing near Northway and Crescent Roads have been delivered and the base material for the poles has been prepared for installation.

UM Cancer Center Seeks Patients for Drug Study

University of Maryland Cancer Center (UMCC) is seeking selected colon and kidney cancer and melanoma patients for a promising new cancer therapy: Interleukin-2 (IL-2). Patients have access to this National Cancer Institute (NCI) sponsored drug trial at only six other cancer centers in the U.S.

Interleukin-2, a naturally occurring protein produced by specialized white blood cells called lymphocytes, enhances the body's immune response to tumors by stimulating certain white blood cells called lymphokine activated killer cells, or LAK cells to search for tumors and destroy them.

Dr. Nicholas Bachur, acting director of UMCC, said the cancer treatment and research facility is already treating a small group of patients with IL-2 and plans to increase the numbers treated each week as the study progresses.

Each treatment lasts a month and researchers expect the entire study to take a year to complete.

For more information on joining the study call (301) 528-7904.

History will reveal itself through the 50th Anniversary Slide Show at Springhill Lake's Fountain Lodge on Wednesday, Sept. 24 from 7-8:30 p.m. People are invited to find out how Greenbelt originated, hear more about what the Greenbelt Museum has to offer and the artifacts that are being collected and also learn about new and historical points of interest in Prince Georges County, presented by a speaker from the P.G. County Economic Development Corporation.

A wine and cheese reception will follow the presentation. Everyone is welcome. There is a fee for admission.

Immunization Records Required for School

The Department of Health and Mental Hygiene reminds parents of students attending schools in Maryland of the state law regarding proof of immunizations.

Children under seven years of age entering kindergarten or first grade this September will need proof of having received at least four doses of vaccine against diphtheria, pertussis, and tetanus (DPT) and at least three doses of oral polio vaccine, unless there is a religious objection or medical contraindication.

In addition these children must have had one dose each of live vaccine against rubella and measles on or after their first birthday. Children attending day care centers and nursery schools are also required to be immunized.

New regulations now require students who are seven to 18 years of age to give proof of a minimum of three doses of tetanus and diphtheria vaccines, three doses of oral polio vaccine and a dose each of live rubella and measles vaccines.

If the required vaccinations are absent from the school record, parents should see that their child is immunized as soon as possible by a private doctor or a local health department. A record of the vaccinations given should then be provided to the school the child is to attend.

Beware of Wild Animals

"Love Your Own, Leave Others Alone" is the message of a safe animal awareness poster to be distributed statewide to public schools and libraries. The Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene will distribute in mid September copies of the poster to each Maryland classroom and library.

Each year more than ten thousand Maryland residents are bitten by stray or wild animals. In an effort to reduce the number of children who are bitten, the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene is promoting the colorful poster with the message that children should feel comfortable with their own pet but should stay away from unfamiliar animals.

People can protect themselves from being bitten by wild or stray animals by following the following safety tips: avoid catching, feeding or approaching a wild or stray animal; stay away from stray or wild animals even if they seem tame and friendly and especially if they act strangely. Wild animals usually stay away from people and usually avoid areas where people live or work.

Clean County Association Seeks Award Nominations

Citizens Concerned for a Cleaner County (CCCC), is now accepting applications for its Awards '86 and Badge Award programs. Since 1981, CCCC has held an award program to encourage citizens, business and industry, schools, public agencies and municipalities, as well as the newsmedia, to help promote the "7 Ways to Keep Prince Georges County Clean," and undertake recycling and recovery projects. The annual recognition includes any type of education and/or litter reduction and maintenance programs. The Badge program, started in 1985, is also an ongoing event that requires two projects over the course of one year, such as cleaning up five miles of roadside or one mile of shoreline, and recycling 100 pounds or more of aluminum or 2,000 pounds of recyclable newspaper.

Anyone who knows of a worthy business, organization, school, church or homeowner can sponsor their entry.

Applications for entering can be obtained from local libraries, the information desk on the first floor of the County Administration Building in Upper Marlboro, or by calling the CCCC office at 952-3676.

Pediatric Predicaments

INFLUENZA VACCINE

VACCINE against influenza is safe and effective. It is changed periodically in anticipation of the expected subtypes believed to strike during the coming season. Two kinds are in use: the inactivated whole virus vaccine for adults, and the subvirion (split) vaccine for children. The vaccine should be given sometime in autumn in anticipation of the influenza season in the winter. Previously immunized children should receive two shots, about a month apart. Reactions will occur in about one-tenth of recipients, and consist of fever, and a sore arm where the vaccine was injected. Serious complications almost never occur in children. Children with severe allergy to eggs or chickens should not receive the vaccine.

Influenza vaccine is not recommended for everyone. The following groups should receive the vaccine every year:

- children with lung diseases (asthma, cystic fibrosis);
- children with heart disease;
- children with immune deficiency disease or those receiving immunosuppressive treatment (such as cancer patients);
- children with sickle cell anemia;
- children with most chronic diseases: kidney trouble, diabetes, and those on long-term aspirin therapy (Kawasaki's disease, rheumatoid arthritis);
- children in households with high-risk adults.

The vaccine is ordinarily given to children over six months of age only.

I urge all my patients who are on allergy shots to get the vaccine yearly. Flu in a child with respiratory allergy can be a devastating disease.

If you have any questions, be sure to call your physician.

Soccer News

by Kevin Wheatley

The Greenbelt 9 and under soccer team made their first appearance in the County Soccer League last Sunday. They opened wide the eyes of the current champions from Oxon Hill by defeating them 1-0.

The all boy select team from South County played true to the form that gave them a six win, no loss record last Spring. But then they never had to play Greenbelt before.

Speedster Scot Lubey backed up by veteran midfielders Miguel Boardman—Pereira, Shawn Wilson and Adam Wheatley, was one of the big differences that gave Greenbelt the winning edge.

The entire team made a serious effort to win in the game even though it was unknown to them at the time that they were playing the Prince Georges County champions. This kind of win is particularly gratifying because Greenbelt does not make cuts and we proudly play our girls!

Youth Football — 1986 Season Begins

by Jeff Keir

The Greenbelt Boys and Girls Club's football teams are in action having played their first games this week. The first week saw both teams with a heavy schedule of three games: Saturday, September 13; Wednesday, September 17; and this coming Saturday, September 20.

The 95 lb. team, head coached by Wayne Smith, will play Marlboro at 10:45 at Sasscer Field (Bd. of Ed. Bldg.) in Upper Marlboro. The 75 lb. team, head coached by Perry Umphries, will also be playing its Marlboro counterpart on Saturday, September 20 at Sasscer field. The 75 lb. team game will start at 1:15 p.m.

The team's first "home" game at Braden Field will be on October 4. The 95 lb. team plays Beltsville at 9:30 a.m. and the 75 lb. team plays Beltsville at 9:30 a.m., and the 75 lb. team plays College Park at 10:45 a.m. Please come out and support the hometown Raiders.

The Greenbelt 75 lb. team had a defensive battle their first game against Bradbury Heights on September 13 with Jason Everhart leading the team with two quarterback sacks and three tackles. Gus Guzman blocked a punt, and, on offense, Robert King II ran 40 yards in nine carries led by the excellent blocking from Dustin Barnett who also recovered fumbles, assisted on tackles and helped pressure the Bradbury Heights quarterback. This team, with many of its players playing their first ever football game, looked impressive on defense. As the season goes on, they could be the team to beat.

Soccer

by Sue Cornelius

As predicted last week, Greenbelt women are making their presence known in the Columbia Women's Soccer League. They won their second game last Sunday with another shut out, 2-0. They were again playing a team that has consistently thrashed them over the years. Anne Herink scored on a beautiful corner kick from Jane Jenkins, and "Teddy" Diane Fields scored the other, after taking many close shots on goal. Lauren McCarthy, who is willing to share her role as goalie if anyone is interested, made sure the Columbia team was scoreless.

This league has grown to be quite competitive and the Greenbelt team has proven itself capable, strong and enthusiastic. Even after several losing seasons, they show up to play. Skills have improved, as has the teamwork and communication... which makes for a winning combination!

At the Library

On Wednesday, September 24, Evening Drop-In Storytime, for ages 3-5, is from 7-7:30 p.m. On Thursday, September 25, Drop-In Storytime, for ages 3-5, is from 10:30-11 a.m.

Six students from the Youth Acting Class sponsored by the Greenbelt Arts Center, performed "Never Fear, Strongheart's Here," at Green Ridge House, Thursday, July 31.

The melodrama featured Heather Frid as the evil Squinch, Amber Frid as the corrupt sheriff. Kim Garland as the hero Strongheart and Michelle Famax, Suzanne Downs and Julia Kender as the distraught maidens.

Children's Hospital will benefit from Springhill Lake's "Dress Like A Kid" Night held September 12 at the Fountain Lodge. "A portion of our proceeds will be donated to Children's Hospital in appreciation of their care and concern for the community," said Kimberly Andreadis, Marketing Director.

Hula hoops, hopscotch, and crackerjack were enjoyed by adults—residents of Springhill Lake, their guests, and employees. To promote the event, some SHL employees dressed like kids during work hours, to the surprise and delight of co-workers. and residents: L-R, Kim Andreadis, Director of Marketing for SHL; Pat Giordano, Assistant Marketing Director; Afi Edim; Shelby Capel; and Marla Sherman.

The performance was prepared during six weeks of classes taught by Pamela Bilik. The students assembled their props and costumes, as well as performing the play.

The classes are scheduled to be held again in the fall.

FDA SAYS DONATING BLOOD IS SAFE

According to the Baltimore District Office of the Food and Drug Administration, a recent national public opinion survey for the American Association of Blood Banks found that 34 percent of the American public erroneously believe that they can get AIDS by donating blood.

This fear, unwarranted as it is, can itself be fatal to people needing blood. It apparently is scaring many potential donors out of giving vitally needed blood. Blood banks throughout the nation are reporting declines in donations.

The FDA report emphasizes that there is no risk of contracting AIDS from donating blood at any American blood bank—absolutely no danger of exposure to the AIDS virus. Donating whole blood involves giving blood. It does not place the donor in contact with anyone else's blood. Blood is drawn from the donor's arm into a sterile plastic bag via a sterile connecting tube and sterile needle which is immediately disposed of upon use (the bag, tube and needle are referred to as a blood collection set.) Therefore, the donor is never exposed to a needle that has been used before, or to any substance or equipment that might harbor the AIDS virus.

The FDA regulates the manufacture of blood collection sets and the operation of all blood donation centers to maintain their wholesomeness and safety. Under the Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, all whole blood collection establishments must be registered by FDA, and are subject to regular inspections.

Failure to comply with FDA standards can result in the suspension or revocation of the offending establishment's license.

SHL Honors Peggy Heim

The Fountain Lodge at Springhill Lake honored one of Greenbelt's own at Ladies Night on August 29.

Peggy Heim was selected as an Outstanding Lady in the community for her service and support to Greenbelt and to Springhill Lake. "Peggy Heim has been an asset since day one," said Jacqueline Anderson, Activities Coordinator at the SHL Fountain Lodge. "We appreciate her participation in programs such as the community road rally, numerous workshops for the benefit of Greenbelt residents, and her willingness to serve as a member of our Focus Group at Springhill Lake, which provides us with a means to better listen to the needs and wants of our residents."

Additionally, Peggy Heim has plans to form a new teen club to benefit the youth of the community in conjunction with Springhill Lake.

"We at the Fountain Lodge are looking forward to cooperating with Peggy Heim to organize the new Teen Club," added Linda C. Schwartz, SHL Community Relations Manager. "We are proud to recognize a lady of her caliber and plan to continue recognition ceremonies such as these in the future."

and in the criminal prosecution of the responsible parties.

All major blood service organizations including the American Red Cross, the American Association of Blood Banks and the Council of Community Blood Centers use sterile blood collection sets and dispose of all needles after one use.

Red Cross Needs Blood Donations

American Red Cross blood donations at various sites throughout Prince Georges County have been suffering from the end-of-summer blues. Each year, around Labor Day, blood collections usually taper off as students settle into fall classes, and individuals return to their work routines after summer vacations. However, the need for blood remains constant.

All eligible blood donors are encouraged to drop by their local bloodmobile to help combat this normally slow period. For information about the nearest bloodmobiles, please call 559-8500, extension 30.

BUNION BUSTER

On Saturday, October 4, a four-mile race will be held at Greenbelt Lake at 9 a.m. This is for walkers as well as runners. All finishers will receive a commemorative ribbon.

The race is being sponsored by the Prince Georges Choral Society. The theme of the race is SATB—which stands in this case not for different choral voices, but for "Sweat And Tender Bunions!"

Registration will begin at the lake at 7:30 a.m. There is a fee. Runners and walkers of all ages are invited to join in the trek, which is approximately three times around the lake. For further information, please call Sid Conger at 474-7573 or at 474-9258.

"Sailing and Seamanship"

Offered by Coast Guard

Flotilla 24, U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary, is again offering its Sailing and Seamanship course to the public. This course is offered free of charge as a service to promote safe sailing.

Classes will be held weekly beginning on Tuesday, September 30 and continuing until December 16. Registration will begin at 7 p.m. on September 30. Classes will run from 7:30 to 9:30 each Tuesday evening.

"Sailing and Seamanship" is essential for anyone new to sailing while providing important information to the experienced skipper on recent changes to the buoy system and steering rules. Topics to be presented include: How a Boat Sails, Rigging and Boat Handling, Heavy Weather Sailing, Navigation Rules, Legal Requirements, Seamanship and Piloting.

Anyone desiring further information may contact Pat Gardes at 474-5216.

GHI NOTES

The Finance Committee will meet Tuesday, September 23 at 8 p.m. in the GHI Board Room.

A membership hearing on the parking proposal will be held Monday, September 29 in City Council Chambers at 8 p.m. GHI members will have a copy of the proposal delivered to their door before the hearing.

HOSPITAL OFFERS CLASS ON CARE OF NEWBORN

New ID Could Save a Life

High technology breakthroughs in identification methods have resulted in creation of a 2.5 millimeter disc that could save a person's life in a medical emergency.

MICRO I/D is a tiny disc the size of an upper case "O" on the typewriter which can contain hundreds of characters of vital information, such as name, address, phone number, medical conditions, allergies, organ donorship, emergency phone number and the person to contact at the emergency phone number.

According to the Southern Maryland Dental Society, the disc is bonded, painlessly, to the first upper right molar, out of sight, where it will last at least 4-6 years. There is no drilling involved. No shots. No pain.

When a medical emergency occurs, the MICRO I/D can be read in the mouth or easily removed in seconds by a medical professional. The information is read with a microscope or microfiche reader. With this information, treatment can begin quickly when seconds count. Hospitals and emergency personnel throughout the United States have been alerted to be on the lookout for MICRO I/D, the ideal form of identification which cannot be lost, stolen or forgotten.

Over 40 million people in the United States suffer from potentially life-threatening medical conditions. If any of these people are found unconscious from heart disease, diabetes or other medical conditions, medical personnel may not be able to determine immediately how to treat the patient. MICRO I/D supplies that information almost instantly.

MICRO I/D is the ideal form of identification for the active people of today. Joggers, swimmers, boaters, hikers and campers can all benefit from its positive identification. Throughout the year, many children become lost and confused. MICRO I/D will help return these children where they belong—quickly and efficiently. A child may be unable to tell medical or law enforcement officials who they are. MICRO I/D will provide the identification and any needed medical information. A primary concern for working mothers are children in day care centers and "latch-key" children. These children may be unable to give pertinent medical information in case of emergency. Single adults and students who are away from home can also greatly benefit from the information on MICRO I/D.

Additional information in MICRO I/D can be obtained from the Southern Maryland Dental Society (731-4525) or from local dentists who are undertaking the procedure.

County Brochure On Historic Site

The Prince Georges County Parks and Recreation Foundation, Inc., has received a $500 grant from the C&P Telephone Company to help pay the costs of producing a brochure to promote some of the historic sites in Prince Georges County.

The brochure, a joint effort of the Foundation and the Prince Georges Chamber of Commerce, will promote the use of historic sites as settings for movies, as well as weddings, business meetings and other special occasions.

The Foundation was established in 1982, to help enhance the quality of life in the county through support of parks, recreation, cultural and conservation projects. In addition, the Foundation works in cooperation with other organizations, such as the Chamber, to help enhance economic development within the county.

If the yard is closed, please leave the items outside the gate. For questions regarding the recycling program, contact the Public Works Department at 474-8004.

Hoyer Sponsors Career Forum on September 27

In order for students to learn more about the nomination process to the service academies and options available to them, Congressman Hoyer will be sponsoring his sixth Annual Academy Showcase and Career Forum on Saturday, September 27 from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. in the Cannon House Office Building on Independence Avenue in Washington, D.C. The program will enable students to meet with representatives of each academy, as well as young people currently enrolled in each academy. Representatives will also be on hand from the University of Maryland, Bowie State College and Prince Georges Community College and the National Association of Trade and Technical Schools.

Hoyer said, "We have a better chance than ever to place qualified young Prince Georgians at the academies. This year we will be able to make as many as 20 nominations to the Military Academy, 10 nominations to the Air Force Academy, 10 to the Naval Academy and 10 to the Merchant Marine Academy. Appointments are made by the academies from the pool of nominees."

Apprentice Program Given in Carpentry

The Suburban Maryland Building Industry Association (SMBIA), a trade association of over a thousand building firms in five local counties, is seeking applicants for its Carpentry Apprenticeship program. This four-year program combines on-the-job training by master craftsmen by day with classroom instruction by night.

Applicants must be 18 years old or older, have transportation, and have a strong desire to work in the craft of carpentry. A high school diploma is not required, and women, veterans, and minorities are encouraged to apply. Applicants selected for the program will be placed in jobs.

Classroom instruction will be offered at the Edison Career Center in Wheaton two nights a week during the school year. These classes will cover all phases of residential carpentry including blueprint reading, cost estimating and building codes. Although classes will not start until October, job placement has begun this summer. The program is registered with the U.S. Department of Labor and the Maryland Apprenticeship and Training Council. Graduates receive official journeyman certificates. The program is approved for VA educational benefits. Advanced placement is available.

Interested persons should phone SMBIA at 572-5900.
